Our Story

The Summit Vision
The Women’s Leadership Summit and Women’s Leadership Development Program were founded by Dr. Shirley J. Everett. The summit goal is to encourage and inspire established and emerging leaders in the Stanford community and beyond to excel personally and professionally.

About Women’s Leadership Development Program
The Women’s Leadership Development Program (WLDP) is a workplace empowerment team formed in 2012, under the direction of Dr. Everett, to provide professional development, resources, and support to leaders originally in the Stanford Dining and Stanford Hospitality & Auxiliaries division of Residential & Dining Enterprises (R&DE). The program is now open to all staff at all levels across R&DE divisions. WLDP is just one of the programs she employs to lead, inspire and support individuals across campus to achieve their goals.

WLDP has now expanded to all of R&DE and beyond to the larger Stanford Community. It aims to encourage new and emerging leaders on campus to discover their potential, ignite their power, and uplift others while enhancing their professional and personal development.

The WLDP hosts monthly and quarterly discussions and workshops, including the WLDP Leadership Speaker Series, WLDP Leadership Development Workshops, and breakfast and lunch leadership discussions. Individuals of all genders and backgrounds are welcome and encouraged to be a part of this program.

About Residential & Dining Enterprises
Residential & Dining Enterprises supports the academic mission of the university by providing the highest quality services to students and other members of the university community in a sustainable and fiscally responsible manner. Throughout R&DE, we support respectful, open communications and we encourage leadership development and staff recognition.

The R&DE vision is to be the best in the business by Creating a Culture of Excellence. R&DE encourages education and training for professional development and personal enrichment.
