

Stanford
FOOD INSTITUTE
Residential & Dining Enterprises
CONFERENCE 11.4.2019

Scott Giambastiani

FOOD PROGRAM MANAGER
GOOGLE

Scott is a Bay Area native, who started his career in kitchens of The Dining Room at the Ritz Carlton San Francisco, The Lark Creek Inn in Marin County, & Viognier atop the Draeger's Marketplace under top chefs including Bradley Ogden, Gary Danko & Sylvain Portay before coming to Google in 2006 to succeed Google's first chef (Charlie).

Scott initially aided in growing the Bay Area food team from just a handful of cafes in the early 2000's as executive chef. In 2013, he was appointed global program chef and operations manager to help scale the operation to over 200+ sites in 150 cities and 45 countries. Today, he currently manages food program operations at Google headquarters in Mountain View, Calif., at the heart of Silicon Valley.